Shire celebrates ability with morning tea

The Shire will next month hold a morning tea to acknowledge Disability Awareness Week (27 Nov-3 Dec) and International Day of Person with a Disability (3 Dec).

Broome Shire President Graeme Campbell said the event was open to the public and was an opportunity for the Shire and wider Broome community to acknowledge the fantastic inclusive community projects and achievements in town.

“The Shire is especially proud of its community members who have a disability and who continue to contribute to Broome and add value to our society. We want to take the time to celebrate them and their achievements,” said Mr Campbell.

“The event will also serve as a fitting occasion for the Shire of present an award to Peter Moore, who has worked with the Shire’s Records and Library teams for 10 years, and who despite his vision impairment has come in week in and week out, year after year and done his job.”
