Broome prospectus to attract investment

A new Inward Investment Prospectus that promises to be a key tool for attracting investment to Broome is now being distributed.

The Shire of Broome collaborated with key stakeholders including the Broome Chamber of Commerce and Industry, LandCorp, Nyamba Buru Yawuru, Kimberley Ports Authority, Kimberley Development Commission, Broome International Airport, Kimberley Training Institute, the Department of Agriculture and Food and the recently formalised Economic Development Advisory Committee to develop the document.

It follows the release late in 2014 of the highly successful Shire of Broome Economic Profile, and the Shire's recent selection by the State as a Regional Growth Centre.

Shire of Broome CEO, Kenn Donohoe, says the Inward Investment Prospectus allows Broome to actively market the region's investment opportunities to local, national and international investors, and positions the Shire at the forefront of economic development. Hard copies of the new prospectus have been distributed to stakeholders and it is available online from the Shire of Broome website.

Interested in being a Shire Councillor?

The Shire of Broome will host an information session on Wednesday 2 September for anyone wanting to find out about becoming a Shire Councillor.

Local Government elections will be held on October 17, with six positions on the Broome Shire Council to be contested.

Nominations to run for Council are open from 3-10 September 2015.

Shire of Broome CEO, Kenn Donohoe, says he will be on hand at the information session to answer any questions, along with a representative of the WA Electoral Commission.

"This will be an informal occasion and a chance for anyone interested in representing their community as a Shire Councillor to have a chat, ask some questions and find out more about Local Government and the responsibilities of being a Councillor," Mr Donohoe says.

The information session starts 6pm sharp in the Shire Function Room, and for more information visit the Shire website or call 9191 3456.
